Not messing around when it comes to “Get me out to the country and let’s hunt!”.

Mostly flat terrain, oaks, mesquite and brush give great cover for the local wildlife. With feeders and blinds, there is plenty of open area to shoot, and for recreation.

Now, not all of us like to share our sleeping bag with the outside critters but you, wont have to. A comfortable hunting “cabin” has electricity, 300+ gallon water tank and the basics to get by for a long weekend (or more).
